A: According to the Microsoft website this is the correct serial number for your version of Acrobat (as reported by a user): When I had the same error as the file had expired, this is what the Microsoft website suggested: Microsoft strongly recommends that you download the latest version of Adobe® Acrobat® from the Microsoft website. When the file expired, they suggested you would need to download 22020134.exe again. A: Download the most recent version of Acrobat, not a refurbished version. 22020134.exe is a valid serial number. It corresponds to Acrobat 9 for Mac Professional: I don't think you're getting a refurbished version. Real-time motion detection of human face: Fuzzy Least Sensitized Selection method. This paper proposes a fuzzy based least sensitive selection (FLS) method to detect real-time moving face. The method is developed on the basis of the Fuzzy Least Error principle, which is applied to select moving face from background and noise for human motion detection in video sequences. The principle, which is a derivative of the fuzzy least sensitivity, considers the local fuzzy information of the input patterns as well as the maximum distance between the predicted output and the ideal output. In its first stage, the input fuzzy pattern is analyzed to obtain the value of its fuzzy membership function, then fuzzy output is generated by the application of the fuzzy membership function on the preprocessed input. Second stage is the synthesis of fuzzy output by the fuzzification of the fuzzy output. The
